Anthony has well define objectives to meet the school's expectations. He has the ability to work effectively with other students and instructors, and is quite willing to strive to achieve common goals. Anthony takes a full share of the load in the preparation to ensure his area of responsibility and other tasks when ever others need assistance, his willingness to accept task has made him a highly corporative student. He has performed at a model of exemplary conduct, and has excellent conceptual knowledge of the barbering industry. His success can be attributed to his ability to accomplish assignments on time.

Graduate of the Month

Kirsten Dunning is a Cosmetology graduate who now work's full time as a cosmetologist at a Salon in central Edmond called Lulu D's !When asked how Central Oklahoma College prepared her for her field her response was, "Central Oklahoma College prepared me for my career by teaching me to work with every type of hair texture, and most importantly every type of personality and doing it with a smile!"

Her advice to current students is, "My advace to current students would be not to over estimate yourself because even the best of the best stylists have room to grow and things to learn considering how our business is always evolving!"

Her favorite part about being a cosmetologist is getting the look of pure joy that her clients give her after she has finished a service and it is exactly what they were wanting, and that it makes them feel good about themselves!

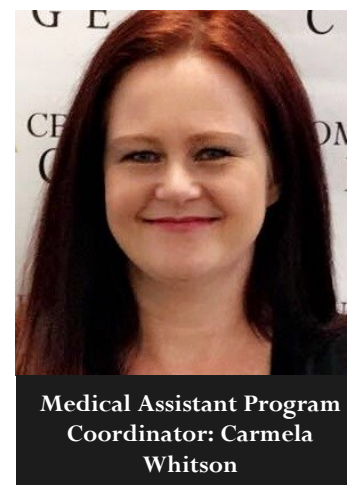

She wants to give a shout out to Ms. Anderson for being a great teacher who strives to help her students and was a saving grace for her... "She is a gift to Central Oklahoma College!"

Employee of the Month

Hannah Vickers, one of our Client Service Specialists has been nominated because of her excellent customer service and her great attitude! Here is what people had to say about Hannah.

"Hannah helps out with things in other departments. She did laundry this week to help out the clinic and she assists with getting the orientation rooms ready for new classes. One thing that I appreciate about Hannah is that she displays a calm and professional demeanor even when leads or clients are difficult. Hannah is positive and professional."-Carolyn Callies

"Hannah helps anyone who has a question or doesn't know something. She goes beyond her duties as a Client Service Specialist. She represents Central Oklahoma College very well, is very positive, and very customer service oriented. She is helpful and knowledgeable and comes up with solutions to minor issues. I just love her persona."-Tracy Kennedy
